

The Night Of Your Life Is When You'll Die

Capital Lights

Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind Can i open with a question?
(Not a sugar coated lesson)
Less than twenty minutes later when
I'm catching dirty looks
From the ones who won't admit when they're wrong
Scaring all the girl just by repeating the name of the song
You think you're getting off easy
But you're barely getting along
Playing harder to get
Time to wish you with the time
With the light of your life
The more you try to make a stand the longer you're gonna sit
Too fulling committing for a full go
Too fulling committing for a fool Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind
Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
As anyone can see that you've created your god
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life
Whoa
Way to make a clearer day
Whoa
Way to bring your dreamer away Are you open to suggestion?
My educated guess is
No answer
Got to circle yes or
Knowing that i'm right
When you left where you don't want to be
Wasting time blaming
Not admitting that you started the scene
You're not getting off easy
But you're barely getting along
Playing harder to get

Still pretending that you're ending what should've never began
Trying hard to prove me wrong but i ain't seen nothing yet Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind
Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
As anyone can see that you've created your god
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life Too fulling committing for a full go
Too fulling committing for a full go
Too fulling committing for a full go
Too fulling committing for a full go Whoa
Way to make a clearer day
Whoa
Way to bring your dreamer away
Whoa
Way to make a clearer day
Whoa
Way to bring your dreamer away Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind
Listen up before the day is faded
I've got a really short story to tell
As anyone can see that you've creating your god
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life
Counting on hope
Living for the night of your life
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life
As anyone can see you've creating your god
Counting on hope
Pretending that you're someone you're not
