Is Anyone out There?

Will Varley

Is anyone out there?
If anyone's out there
Please make yourself known
'Cause we're drifting through
And we're losing our faith
And we've never felt so aloneThis is the human race,
Calling from the Milky Way
We are highly evolved fish
From near Alpha Centauri
We crawled out of the mud,
Waited for our brains and blood
And we're only just opening our eyes
Our technology's immaculate,
We use the Internet a lot
To send videos of cats to each other
We're not doing so well
Regarding not killing ourselves
With our guns, and our tanks and our bombersSo, is anyone out there?
If anyone's out there
Please make yourself known
'Cause we're drifting through space
And we're losing our faith
And we've never felt so aloneWe still dream in fairytales
Sometimes we still soil ourselves
But apart from that we're really quite advanced
So come and find us if you please,
We wanna join your community and
Find out all about this universe
Though our leaders are all insane
We'd let you dissect their brains,
Before you introduce us to our designers
This little fish will wait for you
What we need to see us through
Is some postcards from Ursa MinorIs anyone out there?
If anyone's out there
Please make yourself known
'Cause we're drifting through space
And we're losing our faith
And we've never felt so aloneIs anyone out there?

If anyone's out there
Please make yourself known
'Cause we're drifting through space
And we're destroying this place
And we've never felt so alone
