Balthazar

Every time I walk on by Stroll these lonely streets
Can't believe there's not a thing in the world a thing left to repeatAnd I was walking on your floor begging to get more
Can't believe there's not a thing in the world
a thing to ask foryeah
So leave my broken bones
I'll take a load of your skin
throw me all your stones for me to sit around in yeahEvery time I walk on by Stroll along these streets
Can't believe there's not a thing in the world, a thing left to repeatSo leave my broken bones
I'll take a load of your skin
for me to sit around inSo leave my broken bones
I'll take a load of your skin
throw me all your stones
for me to sit around inDon't you know Don't you know what to say Every time you think about it
talk around it againDon't you know
Don't you know where to stay
Every time you think about it
talk around it againDon't you know
Don't you know where to stay
Every time you think about it
talk around it again
