

Dawn

Candlemass

Suddenly I awoke, I must have fallen asleep under the oak, where I used to sit and dream as a child

The dawn was soon to come, and the air was crisp and cold
Yet I felt warm

I remembered my strange dreams and knew I had the strength and love in my heart to create something from my life. The world was waiting
I was reborn

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>