

Jeweler's Daughter

Carousel

what have I got myself into can't seem to get myself out I never knew she could do what she was all about I should have known from the very first time
I was in above my head
I said a little bit was all I wanted
I got too much instead

I can't deny this spell you got me under
I have been taken by the jeweler's daughter
I can't deny this spell you got me under
I have been taken by the jeweler's daughter

I ain't got nothing left to show but a ring she left behind I can tell that she doesn't know that she hasn't left my mind I see your face when I close my eyes she's got soul and looks that kill just an image inside my mind and a ring on the window sill

I can't deny this spell you got me under
I have been taken by the jeweler's daughter
I can't deny this spell you got me under
I have been taken by the jeweler's daughter
