

Silver Game

Milow

against the wall looking like a princess down the hall who is starting to want something so badly that it hurts now she hopes it's not too late she drinks a lot and figures out she's everything he's not she is starting to want something so badly that it hurts and now she hopes it's not too late to start to play they must find a new name for this sullen silver game it's time to go now that she knows more than she wants to know

and now she knows that it's too late to stay change has never been a decision it just happens she knows exactly what she's gonna do
