23 Days

Framing Hanley

Your kiss was a perfect drug
It gave me the perfect high
And cheaters fall in love

They all deserve to dieI need to feel you again

I need your lips on my skin

For one night I could be him

Well, I could be betterIn your eyes, I thought I saw tomorrow Now, all I see is wasted timeCan we pretend its always been okay?

We never lost it all, lost it all

Can we pretend we never left this fate?

You never lost it all, lost it allThis town's not much of a friend

After 23 days

My patience has reached its end But Id take you back anywayHold your breath

You make the perfect sounds

This is what a love is made of

And baby, you are missing out'Cause in your eyes I thought I saw tomorrow Now, all I see is wasted timeCan we pretend its always been okay?

Never lost it all, lost it all

Can we pretend we never left this fate?

We never lost it all, lost it allLets reintroduce our shadows

And watch them become one

This room is out of oxygen

And Im not nearly doneThe familiar face of your body

Is how I know this is right

Im not asking for tomorrow

Im just asking for tonightCan we pretend its always been okay?

Never lost it all, lost it all

Can we pretend we never left this fate?

We never lost it all, lost it all The familiar face of your body

Is how I know this is right

Why worry about tomorrow?
