United Kingdom

Benga

There's a gang I've just joined
There's a gang I've just joined
Three million strong you'd agree
Four million strong you'd agree
Enrollment was easy, so easy
Getting out proves to be the difficultyFrom land's end to john o'groats
From land's end to john o'groats
They are making ends meet
Mending holes in their coat
Fasting and feasting on bread and margarine
Burning dreams build upon buried hopesUnited kingdom - you'd better ring them
You've a solution - you better bring them
United kingdom - united kingdom
You've a solution - you better bring themOpportunity, I guess they all came and went Finding it hard
Finding the rent you'll find it funny
With your finger running down
Situations vacant
In school he was an athlete
Now he's not so self-assured
"after all of these o-levels is this my reward? "
There's a silent majority, that's seen and Never heard from charles i, charles ii
To charles iiiUnited kingdom - you'd better ring them
You've a solution - you better bring them
United kingdom - united kingdomThis busted, rusted, upper-crusted
Bankrupted done and dusted
No-man-to-be-trusted united kingdomProud to stand beneath the union jack?
Happy dealing up a no ace pack?
Polishing black boots
Priming the riot squad
There go I but for the grace of god
Covering up the agony with mindless entertainment
You'll be happy when they're ripping up the pavement
Bringing down the axe on steelworks and foundries
Someone said love knows no boundaries
Close your eyes and think of england
Lie back and think of herUnited kingdom - you better ring them
You've a solution - you better bring them

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/