My Oh My

Tristan Prettyman

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

You got my heart on a string
You want me back again and you know Ill do anything
Just when I thought I was free
Knock knock the door is locked but you still got a key
All too familiar the moment it shows up
Now everything I know says to flyMy oh my you're getting under my skin
Dont know why Im always letting you in
Just when I got my life together again
Here you are standing there tell me why I should try
My oh my my oh my my oh my my oh myYou got me under a spell
You look like heaven but oh you put me through hell
God knows theres nothing to gain
Oh Who am I to deny were both playin the same game
All too familiar the moment it blows up
How many times can we say goodbyeMy oh my you're getting under my skin
Dont know why Im always letting you in
Just when I got my life together again
Here you are standing there tell me why I should try
My oh my my oh my my oh my my oh myAnd I know that youre no good for me
And it makes no sense at all
Still I keep coming back for more
Cause Im addicted to your callI know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me
The way you kept coming back for me
Like the last breath left of the air I need
I know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me
The way you kept coming back for me
Like the last breathe left of the air I needMy oh my you're getting under my skin
Dont know why Im always letting you in
Just when I got my life together again
Here you are standing there tell me why I should try

My oh my my oh my my oh my my oh my
My oh my my oh my my oh my my oh my
My oh my
I know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/