

No Hurry

Zac Brown Band

You know my old car needs washing
And the front yard needs a trim
And the telephone keeps ringing
And the bossman knows I know it's him And the bills ain't gonna pay themselves
Don't matter anyway
'Cause I ain't in no hurry today Nothing wrong with an old cane fishing pole and the smell of early spring
Sit down in a fold up easy chair
On a quiet, shady river bank Let the world go on without me
Wouldn't have it any other way
'Cause I ain't in no hurry today Ain't in no hurry, I'd be a fool now to worry
About all those things I can't change
And the time that I borrow can wait till tomorrow
'Cause I ain't in no hurry today When I must return to the cold, cold ground
Have 'em take their time when they lay their sinner down
Heaven knows that I ain't perfect, I've raised a little caine
And I plan to raise a whole lot more before I hear those angels sing Gotta get right with the Lord
Or there'll be hell to pay
But I ain't in no hurry Ain't in no hurry, I'd be a fool now to worry
About all those things I can't change
And the time that I borrow can wait till tomorrow
'Cause I ain't in no hurry, ain't in no hurry, ain't in no hurry today
