

What she will

Billy Falcon

It's the way she smiles and the way she walks
It's the way her lip curls when she talks
It's what she says and what she don't
It's what she will and what she won't, yeah She makes me shake, she makes me scream
She makes me breakfast in between
Her ruby lips, emerald eyes
When she can't, it's the way she tries It's the way her arms warm me like whiskey
The way she whispers, "Baby, did you miss me?"
It's what she says and what she don't
And it's what she will and what she won't It's alright, what she will
What she will and what she won't
It's all right, what she will
What she do and what she don't She wraps herself around me, so tight
The way she holds onto me all night
All night, all night, yeah It's the way she shivers in my hands
It's the way she tells me, only I can
It's what she says and what she don't Yeah, what she will and what she won't She's alright, what she will
What she will and what she won't
It's all right, what she will
What she do and what she don't She's alright, what she will
What she will and what she won't
It's all right, what she will
What she do and what she don't
