

Before Somebody Gets Hurt

Kevin Fowler

She unsnapped the top two buttons on my shirt
I felt myself melting in her eyes
One slow kiss from her sweet lips said a thousand words
Good night soul, it was supposed to be I said
If you don't know what you're doing to me We better quit before we let it go somewhere
Starts feeling so good that we don't care
Stop worrying about the consequences
Start loving each other senseless Before we let it get out of control now
Better take a deep breath and just slow down
Better quit before somebody gets hurt She slid her hands into my back pockets
Like you can't leave
I said, 'Darling, I can't take much more of this'
If you're not careful, I can't swear that I won't be Chasing you across the livingroom floor
Down the hall, through the bedroom door We better quit before we let it go somewhere
Starts feeling so good that we don't care
Stop worrying about the consequences
Start loving each other senseless Before we let it get out of control now
Better take a deep breath and just slow down
Better quit before somebody gets hurt If you keep going
And these things start rolling
I know where it's gonna lead We better quit before we let it go somewhere
Starts feeling so good that we don't care
Stop worrying about the consequences
Start loving each other senseless Before we let it get out of control now
Better take a deep breath and just slow down
Better quit before somebody gets hurt Yeah, we better quit before somebody gets hurt
