Time to Part

The Waifs

It may sound strange to your baby, oh yes indeed
But when I leave you tomorrow,
I'll be pleased
I have been scratchin' at you for too long, too long I think it's time for us to part I do believe, that it is timeIt may sound strange to your baby, yes, yes indeed
But when I leave you tomorrow,
I'll be pleased
I have been scratchin' at you for too long I've torn your heart
There's blood on my hands, and its time for us to partThere was a time (there was a time)
that you were my only one
there was a time
that you were my special friend, ohh but now I hurt you every minute, every hour (every hour) the cream of our love has gone sour I'm the weed your the flower (the flower) it's time for us to part I think that it's timeOh, did you see it comin' (no) did you think it would end like this (uh-uh) it should come as, no surprise (no surprise) you should've known it in my kiss cause then when the lights go down you stand me ok I am a low down fishers daughter by the light of day when it comes up I'll be no more in your way it's time for us to part, ohI think that it's time, yeah I do believe don't you know I have a,you've had enough of me baby
I think its time
