Liked You Better Before

Little Jackie

I liked you better before you knew me
You didn't smoke cigarettes, you didn't drink coffee
Drank moderately, now you're an alkie
You didn't even curse when I was a mysteryBack then, back when you didn't know me at all
I thought I caught a nice guy who caught my eye
You didn't have a care, you didn't have a clue
But seems I brought the worst out in youOne day I passed by your apartment
Thinking that I'd catch some girl
Kiss you goodbye with a lingering kiss
I know we broke up, I'll get out of this fazeMy imagination gets the best of me
You end up getting the rest of me
The obsessed, crazy, drama queen
If you know what I meanAnyway, you're never there
You could be anywhere
On an airplane, maybe in a car
On a world tour being a superstarI liked you better
When you didn't know no better
You didn't think that I was
I was the AntichristI liked you better
Before you got a stylist
When friendship bracelets sufficed
But now your wrists are icedI liked you better before you knew me
You didn't smoke cigarettes, you didn't drink coffee
Drank moderately, now you're an alkie
You didn't even curse when I was a mysteryBack then, back when you didn't know me at all
I thought I caught a nice guy who caught my eye
You didn't have a care, you didn't have a clue
But seems I brought the worst out in youFive stitches of breaking up started with denial
Fuck, we were just taking off for a while Thought it was permanent
Better get myself some anger managementBargaining was the next faze
Gave my word that I changed my ways
I swear to God, I'll be a freakin little angel
Please just stop putting me through hellBut he didn't buy what I was selling
I spent about a month on Saturn
Dwelling on the past, at last it occurred to me
You didn't give a damn, time to get with the programI liked you better
When you weren't popular
Before your friends started calling me

The psycho bitchTrends didn't matter to you
But now you're all into the way you look
Your iPhone ringing off the hook
And my new ring tone
Is the theme of the wicked witchI liked you better before you knew me
You didn't smoke cigarettes, you didn't drink coffee
Drank moderately, now you're an alkie
You didn't even curse when I was a mysteryBack then, back when you didn't know me at all
I thought I caught a nice guy who caught my eye
You didn't have a care, you didn't have a clue
But seems I brought the worst out in youIt's like night and day, it's like Jekyll and Hyde
I've created a monster, it's alive
I miss the person I was before I became possessed
And the object of everything you detestI liked you better before you knew me
I liked you better before you knew me
Back then, back when you didn't know me at all
I liked you better before you knew meI liked you better before you knew me
You didn't smoke cigarettes, you didn't drink coffee
Drank moderately, now you're an alkie
You didn't even curse when I was a mysteryBack then, back when you didn't know me at all
I thought I caught a nice guy who caught my eye
You didn't have a care, you didn't have a clue
But seems I brought the worst out in you
