

When I Change My Life

Pretenders

When I change my life
There'll be no more disgrace
The deeds of my past
Will be erased And you'll forgive me
Then you will come back
Hold my hand and say, "I still love you"
When I change my life When I change my life
And all the scars have faded
I'll be someone you look up to
Not excused when your friends come around And you'll want me
Always to be there
You'll be proud to say, "I'm with her"
When I change my life I want a place in the sun, I do
I want to be in love with someone
I want to forget every regret
And all those rotten things that I put you through When I change my life
And the idiot me
Leaves this town forever Leaves us to be together
For the rest of our lives
Happily forever and ever
When I change my life
