

Accident

Lonnie Brooks

Accident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youI live a bachelors life
I never thought of getting a wife
Until I met this girl
That treat me so niceI chose the one I need
I met the one who had the key
And unlocked my bachelors privacyAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youI thought that I was smart
And showed everything I got
And finally discovered
Loving do not coverInsurance on my car
Insurance on my home
When it comes to love
You're on your ownAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youHad a small collision
Because I didn't see the sign
You'd never know what happened
In this highway to love of mineI met a lot of pretty women
I met a lot of pretty girl
And every one I met
Tried to change my worldAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youYou so doggone fine
I can't keep you off my mind
I should have known
That was a collision signToo many accidents
I saw you everywhere I went
Falling in love
Just could not be preventAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with youAccident, just an accident
Accidentally fell in love with you
