

Baynesville

Karyn Oliver

Another long lost night
Eyes are dry
I blink them wide awake
I wonder why

Iâ€™m driving home to Baynesville
I can almost see it in the headlights
This tiny little one block town
Youâ€™d miss it in the daylight

Iâ€™ve been wasting too much time
Drawing circles in my mind
And all my questions leave me bare
With all my running Iâ€™m nowhere

So Iâ€™m driving home to Baynesville
I can almost see it in the headlights
This tiny little one block town
Youâ€™d miss it in the daylight

Nothing ventured nothing gained
Still the world wonâ€™t say my name
Sometimes I just need to hide
And the Bel-Locâ€™s open all the time

So Iâ€™m driving home to Baynesville
I can almost see it in the headlights
This sleepy little one block town
Youâ€™d miss it in the daylight

The old man with a well-worn face
Drinks his Natty Boh by the case
He wonâ€™t drive at night
Heâ€™s been here his whole life

Driving home to Baynesville
I can almost see it in the headlights
This crazy little one block town
Youâ€™d miss it in the daylight

Driving home to Baynesville
I can almost see it in the headlights
This tiny little one block town
