

The Aquarium

Pavo Pavo

your eyes are two sails I'm in over my head I hover over the waves where the air melts like silver what about all my plans
what about all my plans pull me out, I'm floating I walk on neptune's road your salty embrace can't replace my coat
oh, I saw you sleeping by the water you took your clothes off and I -how can I bury all your graces? my eyes are a sailor fearing the stable plain
