

Who I Am

August Moon

Body made of glass, careful every step you take
If I fall, will you be there to pick up the pieces
If I write the story, why can't I erase the past
How do you run from the shadow of a man

To findChorus:

Who I am

My soul, my mind, my veins

Who I am

My soul, my mind, my veinsFragile bones too weak to carry

The weight of the world

Faith sings my name a moving-tune

I leap, and fall right through

To findChorus:

Who I am

My soul, my mind, my veins

Who I am

My soul, my mind, my veinsBridge:

I am the prisoner

Fed to the beast

I am the conquered

The man on his kneesWho I am

(I am the prisoner, fed to the beast)

Who I am

(I am the conquered, the man on his knees)My soul, my mind, my veins

My soul, my mind, my veins

(Fed to the beast)

(I am the conquered, the man on his knees)
