

Holiday

Cascada

There should be a holiday for girls like me
It started kind of hazy (yeah yeah yeah)
And somehow I gave in to temptation.
I thought that you would please me (yeah yeah yeah)
But all I got was false accusation.
But then you tried to break me (yeah yeah yeah)
And lived up to your bad reputation

Chorus

There should be a holiday for girls like me
Just to get some time to pack my bags and breathe
And maybe you will get it when you watch me leave
Coz it's time to say goodbye
You see I made my mind up when I got that bruise.
And if you really wanna know the truth
I'm not the kind of girl that settles for excuses

And I know I'll be alright
I might as well just say it
We always were a bad combination
You're old enough to take it
Don't need to hear your sad explanations
Don't tell me we'll make it (yeah yeah yeah)
We both know that it's false information

Chorus

And there's no way you'll turn it round
Coz I won't let you hold me down
Everybody knows, Everybody knows it

Honey

Everybody knows, Everybody knows

Chorus x2
