

Sing a Song

Donavon Frankenreiter

Ever stopped and listened to the world go round
Whens the last time youve seen lightning hit the ground
Ever feel like life is one non-stop flight
Like youre chasing the moon til the morning light
Awe take your time, dont live so fast
You gotta sing a song, if you wanna make it last
So sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too
Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too
Whens the last time youve floated in the ocean, I saw blue
I looked up at the clouds chasing each other, as the wind blew through Whens the last time you said hello to a stranger on the street
You know the saying strangers are rangers(?) that would never meet
Awe take your time, dont live so fast
You gotta sing a song, if you wanna make it last
So sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too
Just sing a song for your mother, a song for your brother and a song for your friends too
Sing and make it last
