Games

Jonas Brothers

I'm waiting for you right outside
The place we first locked eyes, oh
I feel like we're both losing sight
We don't get to do this twice and I wonderWill you care when I'm gone?
And it's time and I've really had enough
And I'm sorry for the troubleIt's been costing us so much
Splitting apart, it's getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with these games, gamesThe last time that I left these steps
Was after our first kiss
I wonder why you haven't shown
I'll be leaving here alone and I wonderWill you care when I'm gone?
And it's time and I've really had enough
And I'm sorry for the troubleIt's been costing us so much
Splitting apart, it's getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with these games, games(So bored with these games, games)
Splitting apart, it's getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with this(So bored with these games, games)
Splitting apart, it's getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with this(So bored with these games, games)
Splitting apart, it's getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with thisI'm left in the dark
I never thought you could be breaking my heart
I'm so bored with these games, gamesWill you care when I'm gone?
And it's time and I've really had enough
And I'm sorry for the troubleIt's been costing us so much
Splitting apart, getting harder to tell what you want
So bored with these games, games
Games, oh games, oh yeah, games

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/