Real Emotion

Paper Route

How far can someone fall before they lose it all?
How long until you see, I am the criminal?
They put a spell on me, so I could love you right
You fought the demons back, it has me up at nightHow long will heavy devotion cloud my mind?
Just tell me, how long have you waited every single time?
Go on ahead, I think you'd agree,
It's real emotion killing meFor every crooked line, there is a chemical
With every pill I take, they try to make me whole
I'm down to what I've sung, behind the history
I try and drink it down, but it's apart of meHow long will heavy devotion cloud my mind?
Just tell me, how long have you waited every single time?
Go on ahead, I think you'd agree,
It's real emotion killing meHow long?
How long?
Have you been holding on? Have you been holding on and on?I see a garden and road
Evergreen and indigo
If you wait, I can be there
With miles and miles ofFlowers planted in a row
Love, I'm nearly halfway home
If you wait, I will be there
It's real emotion
It's real emotion
It's real emotionI need you more than ever now
All my language cast in sound
If you wait, I can get thereIt's anchored to my racing mind
Maybe you can slow it's stride
If you wait, I will get there
It's real emotion
It's real emotion killing me
