

Generation

Lir

"I don't feel at home in this generation
The ones without a need they ain't got a reason
I've been feeling alone in this generation I've had a realization
    No one really listens
    Nothing's really there
    I'm choosing sides
    I'm keeping up with you
    And your invasion eyes
    You got the world in a coma
    You put the knife in our back
And no one even cares I've been feeling alone in this generation
    I ain't found the need I ain't found the reason
I got nowhere to go in this generation You're ready to take them on You're ready to take them on
    You're ready to take it
I've had a realization Don't tell me to listen
    Nothing's ever there
    I'm choosing sides
    I'm keeping up with you
    And your invasion eyes
    You got the world in a coma
    And the trick bag
    You put the knife in our back
And no one even cares I think I've had enough of this generation Ain't you bad enough
    I think I had enough of this generation
The ones without a need they ain't got a reason
I don't feel at home in this generation You're ready to take them on
    You're ready to take them on
    You're ready to take it I've had a realization
    No one really listens
    Nothing's really there
    I'm choosing sides
    I'm keeping up with you
    And your invasion eyes
    You got the world in a coma
    You put the knife in our back
And no one even cares Ain't you had enough
    I've had enough Don't fuck with me
    Don't fuck with me

Don't fuck with me
Don't fuck with me
