Street Dogs

You're power mad You want everybody to act like you Talking your honey to peopleIt's venom you really say Let's act rich and let's dress vogue Hide our background, sell our soulsBut the one you let go Is back to have her sayWhite collar fraud Here's for the payback White collar fraud Tan's honesty attack White collar fraudSo pathetic you To the actual rich, you're a sycophant Leech on them in storeFor a commission percent Boxing out your co-workers Gaining sales for your totals Your fellow employees Now have a say, "Via this salvo" White collar fraud We're calling you out White collar fraud A back stabber without a doubt White collar fraud You don't intimidate us no more White collar fraudHey you, you're a retail whore Rotting in that upscale store Your fellow employees detesting you every dayWhite collar fraud We're calling you out White collar fraud A back stabber without a doubt
