

All Get Lucky

I Was Totally Destroying It

You never were the lucky one
And you're never safe from your vexations
And your petty charms
All get lucky now
Well you're taking and sending away like the magistrate
Who never falls for a clever play
And all you've got to show for it just fades away
But we all get lucky now
It's a matter of time my angry angel
You smolder, I'm just biding my time
Whatever, we'll settle, and it'll come around
It's a matter of time, it's a matter of learning from the breaks
It's a matter of time, it's a matter of staving off your old ways
All get lucky now
In a matter of time my angry angel
We'll push on, we will find our stride
Whatever will come, we'll take on anytime
Together, we'll get by and I can tell
It's a matter of time my angry angel
You smolder, I'm just biding my time
Whatever, we'll settle, and it'll come around
