

Somewhere Quiet

Brian Wilson

Late at night my head walks around you
Your answers knock at my door Could it be you've seen all your chances?
And somehow you still want more Lost inside a deep sea of faces
Surrounded by eyes, still alone Trying to drown out the voices of sadness
To hear that one clear tone I wanna take you somewhere quiet
So I can hear what's in my heart
Are you as real as I imagine?
Or just the one who plays the part? I found myself lost in your wonder
Happy to be the proof Your answer that doesn't ask questions
Because you're simply the truth I wanna take you somewhere quiet
So I can hear what's in my heart
Are you as real as I imagine?
Or just the one who plays the part? Who we are, love keeps on guessing
Perhaps it will never know There is much beauty in mystery
That's why I love you so
