

Need This Feeling

Ben Schuller

This ice is thick 'cause I've been so afraid to break
But you've stormed in and shattered all the walls I've made
And I know that we're speeding through the race
But I know that the way you move is driving me insane
And I probably shouldn't stay You make my head spin, got me up against the wall
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling
Let's break the rules now I just want to lose it all
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling This ocean's deep but you've been crashing all the waves
I just don't sleep 'cause dreaming doesn't drift the same
And I know that we're speeding through the race
But I know that the way you move is driving me insane
And I probably shouldn't stay You make my head spin, got me up against the wall
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling
Let's break the rules now I just want to lose it all
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling But I know that the way you move is driving me insane
And I probably shouldn't stay
But I know I want to stay You make my head spin Got me up against the wall
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling
Let's break the rules girl I just want to lose it all
But don't stop 'cause I need this feeling
