Compass

Sam Bailey

When night is falling so hard upon you and the world is hanging heavy on your heart
When your soul is stranded, you're barely standing
I will hold you, shield you, show you
I am standing by

And when you're lost and think noone can find you
I will remind you, you're not alone
I will be there, I'll be the one to guide you
My love will be your compass, I will lead you home

When life is painting your world in shadows
And you're left feeling left out in the cold
When you're in darkness, this world feels heartless
I will see you, hear you, greet you
I am standing by

When you're in the storm
And you're in the dark and lost at sea
Grab my hand, reach for me
I am standing by
