

This Must Be Heaven

Rick Astley

When I was much younger
It used to happen every night
I had a dream about a city
Dressed in lights And there were friends of mine
I saw them time after time
But I never knew their names
And darling I swear, I saw you there
I know it sounds insane Sweet dreams of a child forgotten so easy
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be, something went right, I just know when you're near This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door? How could I have doubted?
I guess I must have lost my place
You turned on the light and I saw my life
Reflected in your face Sweet dreams of a time forgotten so easy, oh yeah
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be something went right, I just know when you're near
Oh, yeah This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door?
This must be heaven
And I always knew that there was something more Heaven
Heaven Come closer to me now
You fill me up, I'm overflowing
Come closer to me now
Come hold me tight and don't let go This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door? You fill me up now, girl
You fill me up, I'm overflowing This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been living for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door? This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven

And I always knew that there were something more?
