Thank You

Lennon

[Verse 1]
She says fuck you, you can't even listen for a couple of minutesThank You
(Print the Lyrics)[Verse 1]
She says fuck you, you can't even listen for a couple of minutes
Here's something I've been meaning to say
Yeah it's true, I've been living my life through you
But you can't even do that right, you're not living it my way[Chorus]
She says thank you for never even caring
I'll plan to see you all in hell
As she sits there saying those stupid words over again
Thank you for destroying me[Verse 2]
A cry rages out from a child
What do you mean by your life, can't something belong to me
I've given you everything, I've given you a daughter
But where is the mother I truly need[Chorus][Bridge]
She's lying in his arms at a quarter to three
Now her clothes are across the room; she's down on her knees
And she's thinking you're no better than her and I'm no better than any of you
And frankly what I'm saying is[Chorus][Chorus]
