

Still Believe In Love

David LeMair

When I close my eyes I can see you running through the wet grass
On a warm summer day youâ€™re an angel in a silk dress

Youâ€™ve got a way of loving me like I never knew
And in your eyes I can see that you love me
That you love me, too

But when I reach out for you
And youâ€™re not there
I wonder if Iâ€™ll ever hold you close again

But I still believe in love
And I still believe in you

So you think that a love like ours
Just comes and goes
Well I may be a dreamer darling
But I want you to know

That when you walked out on that rainy Saturday
I never thought itâ€™d be for good
And though I mightâ€™ve known why you left me
You know I never understood

But when I reach out for you
And youâ€™re not there
And if I never feel you in my arms again

You know I still believe in love
And I still believe in you

You know I still believe in love
And I still believe in you

I believe in love
I believe in love
I believe in God above
And I believe
I believe in you (not purple)

I believe in saving the planet
And I believe in saving our souls
I believe in the miracle of life
And I believe that it's worth the struggle

I believe in love
And I believe in you
I believe in love
I believe in love.
