

Clocks

Versaemerge

Since that clock's first tick, A dark hue and fear driven
It's only real till it ends
As the stars fall on our head
Call the wind the thief for stealing their prayers
Look at us shake the sky pulling the whites from my eyes
And as the hands are spinning they're waving you goodbye
Test for more is what we're striving for
As we sleep we walk
Can't awake, can't awake the ones who live this life
'Cause people are the same only habits change
But your starry eyes, oh they don't tell me a thing
Look at us shake the sky pulling the whites from my eyes
And as the hands are spinning they're waving you goodbye

A test for more is what we're striving for
As we sleep, we walk
I swear, I felt you crawling under my skin
I swear, oh I swear
Towers won't fit our view
Forget the man in the mountains follows you, he follows you
But your starry eyes, no they don't mean a thing
As we sleep, we walk
As we sleep, we walk
As we sleep, we walk
As we sleep, we walk
