

When You Rise

Michael McFarland

And when you rise
to meet the day
and face the sunlight
can you still say
that youre not sorry
and youre okay
that all we had
is swept awaycause when I fall asleep at last
its not my memories
that hold me fast
its brighter mornings
and dimmer past
no course is set no dies been castdo you believe this is all we get knowing in dreams that were not done yet our hearts are ten miles off the ground when you wake up do you feel let down
