

Blindsided Again

Turin Brakes

By the time I hit the lights
There was no more pain and no more fight
Staring up a gun, you get a lot done
When I realized the time was ticking like an atom bomb
I learned to sing along, like there was nothing wrong Now I'm blindsided again
Now I'm blindsided again When I was a child
The spacemen that I thought I saw
Were absolutely real, real is how you feel
When I realized the time was ticking like an atom bomb
I learned to sing along, like there was nothing wrong Now I'm blindsided again
Now I'm blindsided again
