

The Thought of You

Eleanor McEvoy

Don't need to kiss you though I know it would be good don't need to hug you, but sometimes I wish I could don't mean to do with you what just would not be right just need the thought of you to get me through the night Just the thought of you keeps a sparkle in my eye(choirs)... Just the thought of you
is just enough to get me by(choirs)... Just the thought of you a wrong way to feel
a reason to smile
is keeping me alive(choirs)... just the thought of you (choirs)... just the thought of you don't need to be untrue in any kind of way (choirs)... kind of way don't wanna hurt the one i promise to obey (choirs)... to obey
don't need to let em know don't need to break his heart (choirs)... to break his heart just need to think of you when the days were torn apart it's the thought of you that keeps a sparkle in my eye(choirs)... Just the thought of you
just enough to get me by(choirs)... Just the thought of you it's a wrong way to feel
is the thought of you
is keeping me alive ohh if things have been different and i've known you before it might have been good, it might have had more or maybe we've end up thinking to much about people we like

is just enough to get me by(choirs)... Just the thought of you it's a wrong way to feel
