Happy Ending

Caos Exa

Cowboys ride into sunsets
The good guy always gets the girl
Cinderella has just fit
A glass slipper that changed her world
We all know the story
We all know the fairy tales
We all get the glory
Of making it for ourselves
From the beginning
We're all looking for a happy ending
Every dream of winning every love we've been in
Right from the beginning, we're looking for a happy ending
We've come here with nothing
And take it with us the day we leave
The first and last breath don't matter
It's all the ones that are in between
It's the reason for living
It's the reason the caged bird sings
It's why we see it in the movies
All the way to the closing scenes

From the beginning
We're all looking for a happy ending
Every dream of winning, every love we've been in
Right from the beginning, we're looking for a happy ending
And for all those dreamers who have come and gone
Who have reached for the stars, who have overcome
You're the hope, you're the wish, you're the truth
Baby, here's the proof
Baby's born in a ghetto
Baby's born with a silver spoon
One tells his mama, "I have a dream"
One tells his mama, "I walk the moon"
From the beginning
We're all looking for a happy ending
Every dream of winning, every love we've been in Right from the beginning, we're looking for
From the beginning
We're all looking for a happy ending

Every dream of winning, every love we've been in
Right from the beginning, we're looking for a happy ending

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/