Salvation's Calling

Gamma Ray

Hello, my name is Mr.Know-it-all
My sweet home is deep down in your soul
Now let me introduce you to the final call
Salvation is calling for youLife is just a kind of fairytale
Narrated by a lunatic for man
The hope in life is clouded by eternal hazeTell me what you mean?
What you think about ambition?
Why don't you scream, ooh yeah?
Don't you realize, what you criticize
Now remove yourself away from hereSalvation's calling, salvation's calling
The walls are falling, salvation's calling nowHey, you think that you have blown it all
Your life, you can't enjoy it to the full
When all your dreams are fading to eternal black
You're lost in the twilightNow, what d'you mean
What do you think about ambition?
Go out and scream, oh yeah
Now realize, not criticize
Remove yourself away from hereSalvation's calling, salvation's calling
The walls are falling, salvation's calling nowFollow your own instinct
Never follow your illusions
Just remember from all troubles
There is a way outTurn around and see yourself
Beyond your own horizons
There's an outcry in the void
There is a way out, from hereGoodbye, my friend
It's time to leave you on your own
Get going to find out your own way
Believe in what you're doing
'Cos I'm in your head
You can't hesitate anymoreDon't think about existence
Just move your ass, be yourself
Now realize, not criticize
Now move yourself, take your chanceSalvation's calling, salvation's calling
The walls are falling, salvation's calling now
