

Hurricane

Mindy Smith

I felt the faint trace of thunder
Rattle this old house
I saw the fire light the sky
But there's no sign of rain anywhere
I need a hurricane
To empty out this place
Seems, it's the only way
To salvage any sense
I have left to move on
I'm waiting to hear your voice again
And lighten up this heart
And I'm holding on to stupid memories
But I see you in every little thing
I need a hurricane
To straighten out this place
It maybe the only way
To salvage any sense
I need a hurricane
To ravage through this place
Think it's the only way
To salvage any sense
I felt the faint trace of thunder
But there's no sign of rain anywhere
No, there's no sign anywhere
