

Soul Rising

Joe Cocker

Yesterday, I was out in the rain
Wondering when I'd see the sun again
Lonely hearts, baby, I wrote the book
Since she walked away without a second look
Oh, but now I feel good
'Cos you look at me the way a woman should
I feel my soul rising to a new love
No blues I can't rise above
I feel my soul rising when I'm close to you
When you're with me girl, there's nothing I can't do
Yesterday I was falling apart
Picking up pieces of my broken heart
Yeah, but one touch of your healing hand
24 hours later, I'm a whole new man
Yeah, and I'm stronger now
'Cos you make the world a better place somehow
I feel my soul rising to a new love
No blues I can't rise above
I feel my soul rising when I'm close to you
When you're with me girl, there's nothing I can't do
I got sunshine on a brand new day
And the gray clouds have all drifted away
And there's nobody that I can't be
If it's you and me
