

Burn It Up

Jessie James

There's no need for talkin'
When you're walkin' out the door
There's no need for shouting
'Cause you'll only be ignored
What's the point of fighting
You already lost the war
Give it up, give it up
You won't hurt me anymore
There's no need to hide it
Everybody saw your face
Don't even make excuses
I won't make the same mistake
There ain't nothin' you can do
There's nothin' left to say
Give it up, give it up
Doesn't matter, it's too late
Took the sheets and tore 'em up
With all the pictures of us
This is for the times you kept me waiting
Piled up everything you got
With some kerosene on top
This is what you get for my heart breakin'
Burn it up, burn it up, burn it up
Boy, that's what you did to my love
Boy, that's what you did to my love
Sheriff, understand I had a man who wouldn't change
Always left me crying every time he went away
I knew what he was doin' but it took awhile to say
That's enough, that's enough
Now we're doing things my way
Took the sheets and tore 'em up
With all the pictures of us
This is for the times you kept me waiting
Piled up everything you got
With some kerosene on top
This is what you get for my heart breakin'
Burn it up, burn it up, burn it up
Boy, that's what you did to my love
Boy, that's what you did to my love
You made your bed, now watch it burn
All up in flames a lesson learned
You only got what you deserved
The roof is on fire
Took the sheets and tore 'em up
With all the pictures of us
This is for the times you kept me waiting
Piled up everything you got
With some kerosene on top
This is what you get for my heart breakin'
Burn it up, burn it up, burn it up

Boy, that's what you did to my love
Boy, that's what you did to my love
