

After the Fall (The Apocalypse Song)

RollerBlue

After the fall, when the sun has gone
After the fall, we'll start our life again
After the fall, when the city is no more
 After the fall, the day is cold
 After the fall, an unearthly light
After the fall, a landscape in a dream
 Chorus
 No debt to pay
 No bell to toll
 No past remains
 No home to call
 After the fall
When the city is no more
 We'll watch the fires slowly fade
 On horizons now unknown
 Through the debris we'll make our way
In this barren place we'll lay a trail
After the fall, when the sun has gone
 After the fall, we'll start our life again
 After the fall, when the city is no more
After the fall, we'll live each other's fears
 After the fall, a time newly forged
After the fall, when the world begins
 Chorus
 After the fall
 When the city is no more
 After the fall
