Death Row

Pentagram

Alright!
Waiting your turn, Just to die
You wish that someone could be by your side
You're so afraid to be alone
You need my help so that you can be strongAnd what will you miss when death gives you a kissLive in a room with your solid walls
You can't get out although you call
Looking around and what you see
A thousand souls and there ready to screamAnd what will you miss when the death gives you a kissSuch a strange moaning in the air
Can you feel the breeze through your hair
Rolling around across the ground
Hoping that soon you will be found yeahAnd what will you miss
When the death gives you a kissOh yeah!The evil darkness that you can't see through Turns you around makes a fool out of you
Looking behind you can you see the dawn
Wasted your chance and now your life is goneYour life is gone yeah!
