

Forest Fire

Astronautalis

There's forest fire up in the hills again
Always reminds me of the night we spent at the river's edge for hours standing hand in hand
Too chicken shit to just go dive in it
Too scared to turn away and face the fate that awaits us both back on land
Forest fire has a smell to it
A certain sweetness that misleads us to believe that anything's well again
Summer sweltering
The kind of heat you feel inside your feet radiating upward from the earth within
If I was a smarter man I'da never gave you momma's wedding ring
I'da went ahead and just pawned the thing
Skipped town and never called again
But your brain never listens to the songs that your heart'll sing
I ain't no Christian that was momma's thing
I don't know how to pray and if I did I'm not too sure he's listening
To me it's whispering
I don't know
Maybe there is some fucking magic in giving language to hidden things
Who are we kidding kid we were just pulled into this
And what the hell will make us think that we were any different
Your daddy did the same my pops did it too
They came to the same spot asking that river for some clues
All they got was wet shoes
And they gave birth to me and you
So tell me darling
What the hell are we supposed to do?
Dance alone together
Held back by the fear that one day
We might get so close
Never be strong enough to separate
She had this dream that's clever
We could fold time and space
I like you
You like me
Why are we so afraid
Why are we so afraid
Why are we so afraid
Why are we so afraid
Why are we so afraid
Why are we so afraid

Why are we so afraid
