These Days

Ronan Keating

These days, I've been feeling lucky
Looking all around me
I see so many dreams that have come true
Like me right next to you
Like the angels coming through
These days have only just begun
Someone to come home to
Each and every night
All of my tomorrows
Are finally looking bright
Oh what, I won't rush it,
Why would I dare?
Nothing could compare
To the way I've been feeling these days
They are the best I've ever had
And they have only just begun
Here we we're so connected
Like the moon is to the sun
I never thought I'd feel this way
Cos all I ever really wanted is these days
If I could, I'd try to freeze the moment
Set aside the future
Stay right here right now
So time won't fly

Like the flame that never dies
Like the love that's in your eyes
These days have only just begun
Something to believe in
When the world is going mad
And when the rain is crashing down girl
It doesn't seem so bad
Oh what, I won't rush it
Why would I dare?
Nothing could compare
To the way I've been feeling these days
They are the best I've ever had
And they have only just begun
Here we we're so connected

Like the moon is to the sun
I never thought I'd feel this way
Cos all I ever really wanted is these days
They are the best I've ever had
And they have only just begun
Here we we're so connected
Like the moon is to the sun
I never thought I'd feel this way
Cos all I ever really wanted is these days
They are the best I've ever had and they have only just begun...
