Four In the Morning

Ivy

I never knew I was close to you
You seemed so dead inside
I kept trying just to see it through
Just to be with you, just to take a ride
Promise me that you'll do your best
It's all on youyou're all that's left
I never knew what I meant to you
I guess that's no surpriseFour in the morning and I've got that feeling
Clock's ticking but my heart's not beating
Eyes open and I'm staring at the ceiling
Tell me that you're leaving; give me something to believe inDoo woo, doo dooI never left, I just held my breath
I kept it all inside
I never guessed if you knew the rest
There was nothing much written in your eyes
Promise me that you'll let it go
It's all I've got; I need to know
I never knew what to make of you
I guess that's no surpriseFour in the morning and I've got that feeling
Clock's ticking but my heart's not beatingFour in the morning and I've got that feeling
Clock's ticking but my heart's not beating
Eyes open and I'm staring at the ceiling
Tell me that you're leaving; give me something to believe inFour in the morning and I've got that feeling
Clock's ticking but my heart's not beating
Eyes open and I'm staring at the ceiling
Tell me that you're leaving; give me something to believe inDoo woo, doo doo
Doo woo, doo doo
Doo woo, doo doo
Doo woo, doo doo
