Just for Me

Pulley

Forget the tears running down my face
Everything's so unimportant
You say when we understand
All our problems will go awayI'm just trying to keep things simple
Now what's it going to take for me to say
A few more hours I think
We'll see a changeGet back to all the reasons when
We've tried to turn the other way
Response triggers an image
I'm just trying to keep it all togetherWhat's it going to take for me to say
Build the walls around my world
So no one will get in
