

Lie Detector

The Buffets

New millennium, pump this in your jeeps
This is for all y'all out there
That ever dealt with somebody
Pump this in your jeeps
Who's lying, faking
Cheating, stealing
Creeping, BS'ing?
Pump this in your jeeps
I got this thing called the lie detector
Two teaspoons and they're bound to tell the truth
Pump this in your jeeps
Listen
You told me
That I was your fantasy, yeah
You said that
We would practice monogamy
So, I became a freak under the sheets
Put his ass to sleep
Creeped into the kitchen
And got the remedy
It's called the lie detector
I slipped it in his drink
I brought it to his bedside
And said take a sip of this and don't think
You won't believe what happened
When he sipped the lie detector
Looked into his eyes
Asked him where you been?
He said it's no surprise
'Cause I've been with my ex girl
Why you tell me the truth?
He said you wanted to hear the truth
Sometime I wish I never gave him a detector
I thought he loved me but he loved her
So, I'm kind of glad he took the lie detector
Now, I know the truth so you can get the boot
Man, you have to, you have to, you have to go man
Tie up your, tie up your, tie up your clothes, yeah
End of the, end of the, end of the road

Once you find out, ya gonna light up
She told you baby let's get married
I always be faithful let's spend eternity
So, he became a freak under the sheets
Put her ass to sleep
Creep into the kitchen got the remedy
It's called the lie detector
Slipped it in her drink
And brought it to her bedside
And said take a sip of this and don't think
You won't believe what happened
When he gave the lie detector
Picked up the pager numbers
Said who's called sixty nine?
She said don't be surprise
'Cause it's been your best friend
He looked and swallow his pride
Felt like crying but guys don't cry
Sometimes he wished he never gave her a detector
But thought she loved him, but she loved his best friend
But now he's kind of glad she took the lie detector
He found out the truth so he gave her the boot
Now to all the women in the country
It ain't my fault
If the girl ain't want for love me
Truly want to meet me
Kind of girl that want to cook me
Too many girls they sugar
They want to kiss me
Anyway my life is sweet
My girl is neat
I know the streets
Girls jumping at my feet
Well my brides are few
Oh, I see it, we don't defeat
From your lovin' girl is but a treat
If you got a need for some prescriptions
Baby it's all up to your expectations
Make sure that it's with communication
Look out for your man 'cause he put down the foundation
Don't want to find yourself asking how did this happen?
Ma, just shows my love is not open
Friday the thirteenth went to the movies
Baby, hurry up and get goofy
You won't believe what happened

When he sipped the lie detector
Looked into his eyes
Asked him where you been?
He said it's no surprise
'Cause I've been with my ex girl
Why' you tell me the truth?
He said you wanted to hear the truth
Sometime I wish I never gave him a detector
I thought he loved me but he loved her
So I'm kind of glad he took the lie detector
Now I know the truth so you can get the boot
You won't believe what happened
When he gave the lie detector
Picked up the pager numbers
Said who's called sixty nine?
She said don't be surprise
'Cause it's been your best friend
He looked and swallow his pride
Felt like crying, but guys don't cry
Sometimes he wished he never gave her a detector
But thought she loved him but she loved his best friend
But now he's kind of glad she took the lie detector
He found out the truth so he gave her the boot
Hey, you have to, you have to, you have to go man
Tie up your, tie up your, tie up your clothes, yeah
End of the, end of the, end of the road
Once you find out, ya gonna light up
You have to, you have to, you have to go man
Hey, you have to, you have to, you have to go man
Tie up your, tie up your, tie up your clothes, yeah
End of the, end of the, end of the road
New millenium
R 'n' B meets the Caribbean
About to take over the world
