Someone Like You

Matt Wertz

I spent all morning remembering you
In hopes of proving all of this truth, yeah
'Cause me and the moonlight spent all of last night
Finally caught your eye
Baby, I confess, I was not expecting this
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Baby, I admit, I got used to loneliness
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Someone like you, someone like you
An afternoon finds me further along
Could patience be better? Should I move on? No
But it's all I can do not to call you
But your number's still left on my head, oh yeah
Baby, I confess, I was not expecting this
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Baby, I admit, I got used to loneliness, yeah
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Someone like you

Maybe I'm foolish, there's nothing to this
My hope is gone
What if you were feeling like I do?
I'm dying to see you again, hey, hey
Baby, I confess, I was not expecting this
Baby, I admit, I got used to loneliness, oh
'Cause baby, I confess, I was not expecting this
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Baby, I admit, I got used to loneliness
(I have been waiting for someone like you)
Someone like you, someone like you
(I have been waiting, I have been waiting)
Someone like you, someone like you
(I have been waiting, I have been waiting)
Someone like you
