Driven

Scheer

See, I can't feel, I can't breath, I am smitten
Even angels will sin, if they're drivenBurned by the sun, on my skin, burnt my fingers
Curse myself into the wind, hear it whisperNow I know I've started something
Now I know I've started something
These secrets, will tell themselves, somedayNow I know I've started something
Sometimes I feel you burn through me
And I can't move, and I can't breath
And all this things will stay with me
'Til I've lost you
